This is a high-fidelity design of a quiz interface. It features a light gray background with a white header area containing the text "Welcome to the Quiz". Below this is a large, light purple rounded rectangle with a dark purple border containing the question "There are 365 days in a year." At the bottom of the screen, there are three purple buttons: "True", "False", and "Next Question". The "True" and "False" buttons are positioned side-by-side, and the "Next Question" button is centered below them. At the very bottom, the text "Score: 0.0 User: Paul" is displayed.
